In that event, unless otherwise agreed, the Client shall pay such additional amounts as will result in the net amounts receivable by the Dealer (after taking account of such withholding or deduction) being equal to such amounts as would have been received by it had no such taxes or duties been required to be withheld or deducted.

9. SUBSTITUTION AND ROLLOVERS

- 9.1 The Dealer may at times substitute Equivalent Securities for any of the Underlying Securities. - 11.7 In all Transactions in which the defaulting party is the Client, upon tender by the Dealer of payment of the aggregate Repurchase Prices for all such Transactions, all rights, title and interests in and entitlement to all Underlying Securities subject to such Transactions shall be deemed transferred to the Dealer, and the Client agrees that the Trustee (acting on behalf of the Client) shall deliver all such Underlying Securities to the Dealer.
- 11.8 In the event that a sale of the Securities cannot be effected, then the parties agree that the Trustee shall apply the valuation mechanism which has been approved by the Regulator or the method of valuation which has been recognized by the Regulator.
- 11.9 The Parties agree that in respect of the occurrence of an event of default under clause 11.2, the Trustee or the Special Trustee appointed by the Regulator shall deal with the Underlying Securities in accordance with this Master Retail Repurchase Agreement and/or the Regulations.

- 11.10 Except in cases of bankruptcy or insolvency, where the Dealer is in default of its obligations under clause 11.2 and subject to the prior approval of the Client, the Dealer may continue or modify existing Transactions or enter into a new Transaction.
- 11.11 The Underlying Securities subject to this Agreement belong to the Client and do not form part of the Dealer's assets in the event of insolvency of the Dealer. In the event that the Dealer fails to repurchase the Underlying Securities the risk associated with the Underlying Security will be borne by the Client.
- 11.12 Where the Client has paid over moneys to the Dealer for the purchase of Securities and the Dealer has not purchased the Securities, the moneys paid over are held in trust by the Dealer for the Client and do not form part of the Dealer's assets should the Dealer become insolvent.
- 11.13 The defaulting party shall be liable to the non-defaulting party for: (i) the amount of all reasonable legal or other expenses incurred by the non-defaulting party in connection with or as a result of an Event of Default; (ii) the cost (including all fees, expenses and commissions) of entering into replacement transactions and in connection with or as a result of an Event of Default; and (iii) any other loss, damage, cost or expense directly arising or resulting from the occurrence of an Event of Default in respect of a Transaction.
- 11.14 The defaulting party shall be liable to the non-defaulting party for interest on any amounts owing by the defaulting party hereunder, from the date the defaulting party becomes liable for such amounts hereunder until such amounts are (i) paid in full by the defaulting party; or (ii) satisfied in full by the exercise of the non-defaulting party's rights hereunder. Interest on any sum payable by the defaulting party to the non-defaulting party under this Clause shall be at the Default Rate immediately prior to the default.
- 11.15 The non-defaulting party shall have, in addition to its rights hereunder, any rights otherwise available to it under any applicable law.

12. LEGAL TITLE AND BENEFICIAL INTERESTS AND TRUST

Upon the Client's payment of the Purchase Price to the Dealer, the legal title in the Securities shall pass from the Dealer to the Trustee (for the benefit of the Client) and shall be reflected accordingly in the books of the CSD. Such Underlying Securities shall comprise assets held in trust by the Trustee for the benefit of the Client. For the avoidance of doubt, the Dealer shall be deemed to have received the Purchase Price upon the Dealer receiving the Purchase Price in free and cleared funds in the Dealer's Proprietary Account.

14. EARLY TERMINATION/PENALTY

Unless otherwise agreed or unless there has been an event of default by the Dealer, this Agreement may only be terminated early at the discretion of the Dealer.

Where the Client wishes to terminate a Transaction early or requests the Dealer to repurchase the Repurchased Securities prior to the Repurchase Date, then:

- (i) The Client shall give the Dealer a minimum of one business days' notice of the intention to terminate the Transaction;

- (ii) The Client acknowledges and agrees that the Early Termination Date shall be the date agreed by the Dealer and the Client that early termination shall be effective;

The Client acknowledges that the Early Termination Penalty is a reasonable pre-estimate of the Dealer's loss in respect of loss of bargain and costs and expenses arising out of premature termination of the Transaction
- (iv) On the Repurchase Date or the Early Termination Date, the Client agrees to the transfer by the Trustee by way of entries in the CSD, the Repurchased Securities to the Dealer's CSD Account and the Dealer shall transfer the Repurchase Price (less any amount then payable and unpaid by the Client to the Dealer) to the Client, in accordance with such payment instructions as the Client may instruct.

ANNEX II

General Retail Repurchase Agreement Disclosure Statement

This disclosure statement has been prepared to help identify the risks involved in entering into a retail repurchase transaction under the Master Retail Repurchase Agreement (the “MRRA”). This document does not constitute a recommendation, advice or opinion. It is for general information only. While retail repurchase agreements are regulated by the Regulator, you should be mindful of the risks stated herein and note that you may incur losses.

Retail repurchase transactions entered into pursuant to the MRRA involve certain risks. It is therefore recommended that you seek independent advice to ensure that this investment product is appropriate for your financial objectives, needs and circumstances.

If you wish to enter into a retail repurchase agreement with JN Fund Managers Limited (the “Dealer”), you must read, complete and return a MRRA to the Dealer.

Capitalized expressions used in this Annex II, not otherwise defined, shall bear the meanings ascribed to these expressions in the Master Retail Repurchase Agreement.

The Nature of a Retail Repo

A retail repurchase agreement is an investment product in which you agree to purchase from the Dealer and the Dealer agrees to sell to you the Underlying Securities with a simultaneous agreement requiring you to sell and the Dealer to repurchase the aforementioned securities, including any equivalent securities or margin securities (collectively the “Underlying Assets”) on a specified date at a specified price on the terms and conditions specified in the MRRA.

The Underlying Assets are subject to the terms of a trust established under the Trust Deed. Under the trust arrangement, the Trustee will hold legal title to the Underlying Assets and will hold them in custody for Clients subject to the provisions of the Trust Deed, the MRRA and the Retail Repo Regulations. The Trustee has a duty to exercise the same degree of care, diligence and skill that a prudent person would exercise in the circumstances and is prohibited from deriving any secret profits or other benefit from its position as trustee except for fees payable for its services.

Under the MRRA, the Trustee has the authority to appoint a custodian or sub-custodian to hold the Underlying Assets. The Jamaica Central Securities Depository Limited has been appointed the local custodian and Oppenheimer [•] has been appointed the foreign custodian. The appointment of a custodian or sub-custodian must be done in compliance with the Retail Repo Regulations.

A repurchase agreement that does not completely and outrightly transfer the legal ownership of Underlying Securities from the Dealer to the Client is a retail repurchase agreement (hereinafter referred to as a “retail repo”).

Please note that a retail repo is an investment product and is not a bank deposit and is therefore not covered by the Jamaica deposit insurance scheme. This means that the return of your principal or the purchase price is not protected by the provisions of the Deposit Insurance Act.

Your rights and obligations in respect of retail repos entered into with the Dealer are set out in the MRRA and the Transaction Confirmation, which you will receive once the Underlying Securities have been transferred to the Trustee on your behalf. You should read both documents carefully.

The MRRA will cover all the retail repo transactions between you and the Dealer. You should read and sign the MRRA prior to entering into a retail repo with the Dealer. It is also advised that you read the Trust Deed executed between the Dealer and the Trustee. A copy of the Trust Deed can be obtained from the Dealer or the Trustee. The Trustee is located at 40 Harbour Street in the parish and city of Kingston.

You may view records of the securities held pursuant to the MRRA on your behalf at the offices of the Trustee free of charge or by visiting their website. Once you have entered into a retail repo transaction pursuant to the MRRA with the Dealer you are required to register on the Trustee's website - www.jamstockex.com to have access to information on the securities held on your behalf by the Trustee.

The Trustee must hold the Underlying Assets separate from his assets as well as any assets held by it for third parties (outside the trust established by the Trust Deed). These assets must be held in segregated accounts for each client. The Trustee in performing its duties in connection with retail repo transactions may appoint an agent to transact or concur in doing all acts required by the Trustee (including custodian and registrar services).

If you decide to invest in a retail repo, you will be given a Transaction Confirmation which will indicate among other things: the amount of money you invested (or the purchase price), identify the Underlying Securities, the date on which the securities will be repurchased and the price at which the Dealer has agreed to repurchase the securities from you. A Transaction Confirmation will also be issued if you decide to renew or roll-over the retail repo at the Repurchase Date.

The day on which you make payment for securities for a retail repo transaction may be different from the day on which the Dealer purchases the Underlying Securities. During the period in which the dealer holds your money prior to purchasing the Underlying Securities, your investment will be held by the Dealer in trust for you and protected under the provisions of the Retail Repo Regulations. The Retail Repo Regulations require the Dealer to hold your money in a trust account for you.

When you pay the Dealer your Purchase Price by way of a cheque, you are required to make the cheque payable to the Dealer's Bank Account. The dealer will provide you with the details of the Dealer's Bank Account. If you make an electronic payment, you will be required to make the payment directly to the Dealer's account in the Bank of Jamaica's Payment System (RTGS) set up to hold payments received by clients.

Your Dealer will require you to provide bank details in respect of direct payment of the Purchase Price by RTGS. This information will be treated as confidential information. Save for the ability of the Dealer under the MRRA to disclose this information (i) to the Trustee, (ii) to the officers, employees, directors or professional advisors or agents of the Dealer, (iii) the Regulator, or (iv) as may be required by any applicable law or pursuant to any valid court order or regulatory request, confidential information will not be passed to third parties.

Under the retail repo framework established by the Regulator only repo transactions denominated in Jamaican Dollars and United States Dollars are, as of today's date, admissible in the trust structure. Where the underlying securities of a retail repo are denominated in a foreign currency, the Repurchase Price that will be payable by the Dealer will be in the underlying currency, and as such you will not bear the currency risk.

Substitution of the Securities

During the course of a retail repo, the Dealer may substitute other "equivalent securities" for the securities you initially purchased. A security is deemed to be equivalent based on its market value. The market value of the securities will be determined by the valuation method stipulated under the Retail Repo Regulations or a method of valuation recognized by the Regulator. You will be able to see, changes in your account on the Trustee's website, wherever there is a substitution of the securities pertaining to your retail repo.

Margin on Securities

In retail repo transactions, margin is a cash amount or extra securities that the Dealer may be required to deposit with the Trustee in case the value of the Underlying Securities falls below the Purchase Price. Similarly, if the Market Value of the Underlying Assets exceeds the Purchase Price (plus any required Margin) the Trustee may be required to transfer to the Dealer a cash amount or extra securities to nullify such excess.

It is possible that where the Dealer defaults under the MRRA, any cash amount or extra securities provided as margin by a Dealer may not be sufficient to cover the principal and interest payable to you as the Repurchase Price of the Underlying Assets.

Early Encashment

During the course of a retail repo transaction you may give notice to the Dealer to terminate a retail repo transaction prior to the agreed Repurchase Date. This notice shall be given in a pre-determined manner in accordance with the terms of the MRRA. You may be required, by your dealer, to pay a penalty for early termination. The MRRA will stipulate whether a penalty will be applicable.

Events of Default for MMRA

(l) Insolvency of the Dealer

In the unlikely event of JN Fund Managers Limited's insolvency the Trustee (or a Special Trustee appointed by the Financial Services Commission) will deal with the Underlying Assets. The Underlying Assets will not form a part of the JN Fund Managers Limited's assets in the event of insolvency of the Dealer. Provisions in the Securities Act, Insolvency laws and Retail Repo Regulations govern how the securities will be handled in the insolvency.

(m) Other Dealer Defaults

If the Dealer defaults under the MRRA for reasons other than an Act of Insolvency, including but not limited to, where:

- The Dealer fails to transfer the Underlying Securities to the Trustee upon becoming obliged to do so;
- The Dealer fails to pay the purchase price to you in respect of the retail repo transaction upon becoming obliged to do so;
- The Dealer fails to repurchase the Underlying Securities upon becoming obliged to do so;
- The Dealer fails to transfer additional Underlying Securities necessary to maintain margin requirements to the Trustee;
- The Dealer admits to its inability to, or its intention not to, perform any obligation stipulated in the MRRA; and
- Representations or warranties made by the dealer under the MRRA are incorrect or untrue in any material respect.

The Trustee will contact you if it becomes aware of a Dealer event of default under the MRRA. Under some events of default under the MRRA the Dealer has cure periods set within which to remedy the default. If a Dealer event of default occurs and is continuing, you may require the Dealer to repurchase the securities held by the Trustee for you. The repurchase amount payable shall be in accordance with the MRRA.

Risks associated with Retail Repos

Entering into a retail repo may involve a number a risks including the following:

- Market Risk: You may realise a loss on the sale of the underlying security to the extent that the proceeds from the sale plus any accrued interest of the security are less than the resale price provided in the repurchase agreement, including interest.
- Liquidity risk: You may incur delays and costs in the selling the underlying security.
- Credit Risk: The risk that the issuer of the underlying security will default on its repayment obligations or the risk of a downgrade of the quality of the underlying security.
- Legal Risk: There are legal risks with investing in a retail repo as there is no guarantee that the courts will treat the transaction as a sale and repurchase and not a secured loan. This is so because the Dealer retains the rewards (coupon payments) and risks (credit risks) during the life of the retail repo.

Disputes under the MRRA

The MRRA and any obligations arising out of or in connection with the MRRA are governed and will be construed in accordance with the laws of Jamaica. The Jamaican courts shall have jurisdiction in relation to all disputes arising out of or in connection with the MRRA. For such purposes, you and the Dealer under the MRRA irrevocably submit to the jurisdiction of the Jamaican Courts and waive any objection to the exercise of such jurisdiction.

Where the Trustee relies on an overseas custodian to hold the Underlying Assets, issues of conflict of law may arise. A conflict of law exists when there are differences between the laws of two or more countries or jurisdictions which affect the way a right may be enforced. Where a conflict of law arises the Underlying Assets may be subject and exposed to the laws of countries and jurisdictions other than Jamaica.

Tax Implications for Retail Repos

We will withhold taxes on your account at the applicable rate where required by law.

If you are a nonresident of Jamaica, you are advised that off-shore investment transactions may have tax consequences in Jamaica and/or in your home Jurisdiction. Accordingly, if you are a nonresident, we recommend that you obtain prior written tax advice for such transactions from qualified tax and/or legal advisors in your own domicile.

This paragraph does not constitute tax advice, and clients are encouraged to obtain independent advice from their tax advisors.

Fees and other costs

Various fees and expenses such as establishment fees, contribution fees, encashment fees, service fees and termination fees may apply to your investment in retail repos. These fees and costs may affect the amount of monies paid to you when the Underlying Assets are repurchased. The fees applicable to retail repos are available on the website of the Dealer (www.jnfunds.com).
